Quality Assurance of Electrical Products

Knowing your business matters since 1920.

In Canada, more and more electrical products are being imitated or salvaged and sold to unsuspecting customers. While these products are often less expensive, they can present long-term safety risks and have a negative impact on everyone involved in a project—from the manufacturer and the distributor, to the contractor and government body. That’s why having proper quality assurance processes is so critical to avoiding hazards and potential accidents. Learn More Visit:

Installation Video - https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=v-KaejhGb_k

A new video produced by HoldRite and SharkBite aims to encourage youth to consider a career in the plumbing trades. Launched to coincide with US-based Careers in Construction Month, this new video steps out of the typical corporate video culture and, instead, plays like a movie trailer video, complete with slick production values. Check it out here and be sure to share it.

COVID-19, it is imperative that RWC continues engaging with you to offer FREE online Product Training either one-on-one or in a group setting. This training is offered to anyone interested in learning more about RWC's HoldRite extensive product lines and how they can save your customers valuable time and money on the job and convert make-shift methods into engineered solutions!
