

NOVEMBER 2019 LISTINGS

Introducing HoldRite's all-new series of HydroFlame Firestop Sealants, Wraps Strips, Pipe Collars and Putty Pads, created to work efficiently with a wide variety of wall and floor penetration application solutions in commercial and residential construction, for both wood-framed and concrete construction.

FREE Product Training either one-on-one or in a group setting. This training is offered to anyone interested in learning how to convert make shift methods into engineered solutions with our extensive HoldRite line of products.

At HoldRite, our goal is to understand your perspective so that we can continue to provide you with firestop solutions that exceed your expectations. Previously, our product assortment focused strictly on cast-in-place solutions. We have expanded our offering to include installation solutions to expand from 36 UL System Listings, to more than 300, with the intent to become your single-source sleeving and firestop provider.

Bring Your Safety Check and Audit Process into the Future

Put Archaic Handwritten Forms Behind You

Data collection is a vital part of almost any industry for recording the critical data needed to ensure optimal operation of equipment and machinery, and the safety of employees. Yet even as companies are becoming more advanced, their process for recording data is not.

Using handwritten forms means valuable employees spend time making round after round, filling in paper forms and then filing those forms. Additional time is spent deciphering and keying in all the written data, requiring even more time to transcribe and format for interpretation and use.
